Sermon Notes: "Real Worship"

Psalm 95:1-6

Rob Classen

What or who are you fanatical about?

Observations from Psalm 95:

1. Psalm 95 begins a series of Psalms that challenge the believer to be a worshipper
2. The worship of Psalm 95 is musical!
3. The worship here is plural. It's "us", not "I"
4. Our vocal, musical praise is not meant to be a mental, silent exercise
* Psalm 47:1 * Psalm 98:4-6 * Psalm 100
5. The focus of Psalm 95 is 100% God-focused and not about ourselves
6. Real worship is more than enthusiasm; it is also reverent and humbling

Home Group Discussion & BIBLE STUDY for this week:

- Are you a fan? Who or what are you a crazy fanatic for? For how long? How does it make you feel do be a fan of them?
- Read Psalm 96:1-6. Why is music such a key part of worship in the Bible? What are ways to worship the Lord without music?
- Make a list of all the ways the Psalms challenges you to worship (e..g clap, kneel, shout). Of all these physical, demonstrative ways to praise the Lord, which one have you never done? Why not? How can you do all these actions without drawing attention to yourself?
- What would you say to someone who doesn't like public, corporate worship, but prefers to worship God privately? Use scripture to make your defense.
- Read Psalm 100. What 6 reasons does the psalmist give to praise God
- Challenge each other to be more demonstrative in public and private worship (less stoic and stuffy) —but that it be real, from the heart, genuine worship.
